Inclusive Excellence: University of Poonch Rawalakot Progressive Admission Policy for Diverse and Equitable Education

The University of Poonch Rawalakot, AJK, implements a dynamic and inclusive application and entry policy, as outlined in the UPR application form. The key features of this policy are:

Diverse Nationality and Domicile Quotas: We collect essential data on applicants' nationalities and domiciles. Our policy reserves quotas not only for local students from Azad Jammu and Kashmir but also for students from other provinces and Afghan nationals, who often face challenges in accessing higher education.

Inclusion of All Genders: Our application process includes specific options and quotas for genders beyond the traditional male and female categories, ensuring inclusivity and equal opportunity for all applicants.
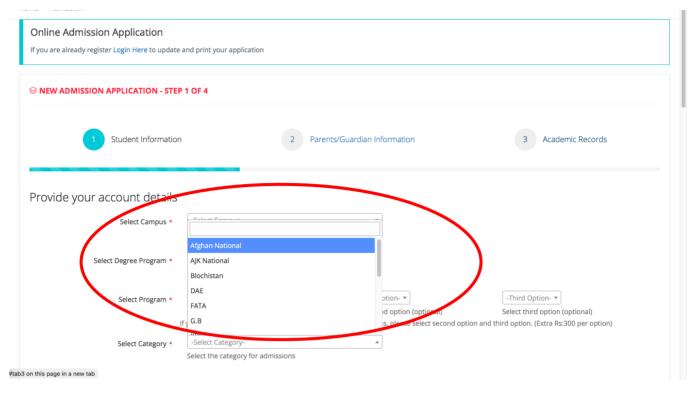

Financial Status Assessment: Information regarding the financial status of applicants is gathered to identify students in need of financial support. This enables us to assist these students throughout their academic journey effectively.
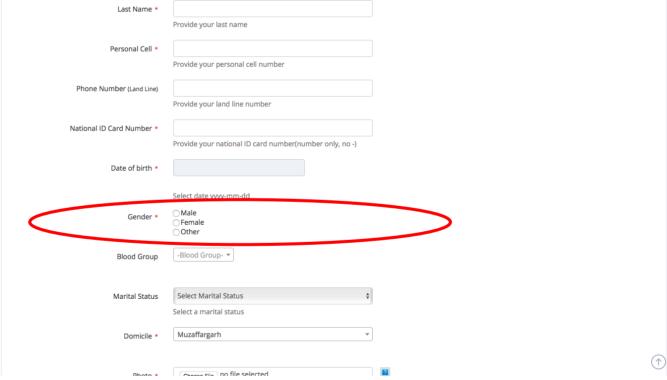

Scholarship Opportunities: We have provided numerous scholarships to both male and female students facing financial hardships. This initiative aligns with our commitment to Sustainable Development Goal 1 (No Poverty), as evidenced by our support initiatives.

Merit-based Support: Academic grades are also considered in our application process. Talented students with financial constraints are identified and offered support to continue their education, fostering an environment where merit and need are both acknowledged and addressed.

These policies collectively reflect UPR's commitment to creating an equitable, supportive, and accessible academic environment for a diverse student body.
