EVENTS FOR LOCAL FARMERS AND FOOD PRODUCERS

SEMINAR ON OLIVE PLANT CULTIVATION ORGANIZED BY FACULTY OF AGRICULTURE

The Department of Plant Breeding and Genetics, Faculty of Agriculture, has organized an awareness seminar on the "Cultivation of Olive Plant in AJ&K and Pakistan" at the University of Poonch Rawalakot on 19 August 2023. The workshop was attended by agricultural experts, students, progressive farmers from all over the country. The community was awaked about Olive plant cultivation, production techniques, marketing and revenue generation. Experts said that Olive plant cultivation can become a thriving industry in the future, taking into account the favorable seasonal conditions in Azad Kashmir. Moreover, for small landholding farmers, it can create opportunities for better income with minimal expenses, which will improve their standard of living and economic self-sufficiency.
